OHIO OIL & GAS ENERGY EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Ohio Oil and Gas Energy Education Program (OOGEEP) is a non-profit statewide education and public outreach program. Created in 1998, OOGEEP provides a variety of programs throughout the state of Ohio on behalf of Ohio's natural gas and oil producers. The primary goal of these programs is to educate Ohio's consumers and leaders by focusing on industry research, teacher workshops, scholarships, science fair, firefighter training, career and workforce development, landowner and guest speaker programs.

SIGNATURE PROGRAMS

OOGEEP organizes year-round events and programs to educate the public and stakeholders on the natural gas and oil industry. A few of our signature programs include:

Public Education

OOGEEP has established itself as a thought leader and trusted source of information. A key mission is informing and educating Ohioans about the impact of natural gas and oil in the state. This is done in a variety of ways, including, public speaking events, and meetings with community leaders such as elected officials, businesses, and economic development entities. The organization also communicates externally via social media channels and is a go-to-source for media outlets across Ohio and the nation.

Essential Ohio Energy Campaign

This award-winning campaign has reached over 12 million people since launching. The ads highlight the many ways natural gas and oil is essential in our daily lives beyond transportation and electric generation.

Teacher Workshops

STEM & geology teacher workshops provide educators with factual knowledge about the natural gas and oil industry, along with the history, science, and geology behind it. Career connections are incorporated into the curriculums and lessons to educate students about opportunities that are available within the natural gas and oil industry.

Scholarship Program

Every year, scholarships are provided to promising students with an interest in the natural gas and oil industry. More than half a million dollars has been awarded since the scholarship program's inception.

Firefighter Training

The first of its kind in the nation, this program has provided training to thousands of firefighters and first responders. It is designed to teach common practices, references and standards used by the fire service and the gas and oil industry.
